Newspapers No. 1; Offset Printing Sweeps Nation

A March 4 bulletin from Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, of which The Star is a member, reports that in 1971 newspapers increased their lead over other media in volume of advertising.

Newspapers ran 30.3 per cent of all advertising, compared to 29.3 per cent in 1970. Here is the comparison for all media in 1971: Newspapers 30.3 per cent.

Television 17.2, down from 18.3 in 1970.

Radio 6.7, unchanged from 1970.

Magazines 6.9, up from 6.7 in 1970.

The figures merely reflect what has been pointed out many times: Newspapers are essentially local advertising media, while television and magazines depend mainly on national advertising.

As television gobbled the lion's share of "national" many magazines folded. The remaining magazines, having weathered the storm, edged upward in 1971.

The same SNPA source reports that 43 per cent of the U.S.'s 1,700 daily newspapers now are printed by the offset process. SNPA got the figures from the American Newspaper Publishers Association's Research Institute.

The Arkansas report, from an Arkansas Press Association bulletin, shows our state running well ahead of the nation in conversions to offset. Here is the SNPA report dated Feb. 28:

Weeklies, 91 of 127 now using offset.

Dailies, 23 of 33 are offset, with additional dailies converting this year.

Total, 114 using offset, of a total 160 papers—making a percentage of 71.2 per cent in the offset column for Arkansas.

It's a matter of gratification to this writer that he made the correct gamble in converting to offset Dec. 29, 1965—the fourth daily in the state to do so. A lot of luck helped him. The Star staff had specialized in local pictures years before the conversion, and what had started as a personal hobby with the editor became a way of life for all our people.

And we got more out of the sale of the old plant than those who delayed conversion. By this time the obsolete machines of the old letterpress plant are no longer manufactured.

Group Named to Plan Hope's Centennial

At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors held on Tuesday night, Haskell Jones, Manager of Radio Station KXAR, was named general chairman of Hope's Centennial observance to be held in the year 1975.

Mr. Jones has called a mass meeting for Tuesday, May 2, 1972 at the Hope City Hall to discuss this observance with citizens of Hope in order to get a cross section of ideas. This Centennial organization will be a separate organization from the Chamber of Commerce and will begin soon toward formulating plans for this event.

In other matters of business the Board voted to continue the Area Visitation again this year and to make at least four visits this summer. Dates of these visits will be announced as soon as they have been worked out. The Agriculture Committee headed by John Lester, suggested that prizes for the largest watermelons be awarded again this year and that the growers of these melons be invited to the next board meeting to discuss some rule changes pertaining to the contest.

In the last item of business the Board passed a resolution encouraging citizens of the Hope School District to inform themselves of the facts and get out and vote in next Tuesday's school election.

presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger is encroaching on the State Department's domain—loomed as likely committee topics.

Rogers hit on these issues as he presented his book-length report with a 10-point forecast of "more than ordinary progress" in foreign affairs in 1972 and spoke to newsmen Tuesday.

Rogers praised the Nixon foreign policy record as "extremely successful by all standards." Asked about his reported absence from top-level meetings with Chinese leaders during Nixon's Peking visit, Rogers denied he or the State Department was being bypassed. "I didn't feel excluded at all," the secretary of State said. "I am not dispirited."

newspaper columnist Jack Anderson—may be heard today. The third, Dita D. Beard, lobbyist for the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., is hospitalized in Denver.

Mitchell and Anderson were scheduled to take the Judiciary Committee witness stand today, following Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, former Justice antitrust chief Richard McLaren and Felix Rohatyn, an ITT director.

Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general may hang in the balance of the committee hearings. It remained uncertain whether the committee will be able to question Mrs. Beard, described in testimony Tuesday as an embarrassing guest at a Kentucky Derby dinner party.

Relying in part on a memo written by Mrs. Beard, Anderson has accused the Justice Department of dropping legal action against ITT after the company pledged $400,000 to help defray expenses of the Republican National Convention.

Ex-Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky told the committee Tuesday that Mrs. Beard answered Mitchell by repeatedly raising the ITT issue in conversation at a Derby Day dinner party at the governor's mansion last May.

"The attorney general replied that he had disqualified himself from the case and that that was not the proper time or place to discuss it," said Nunn, a Republican who left office last January. Mrs. Beard pursued the topic, Nunn said, and "the attorney general said he was sick and tired of hearing about it."

Nunn said he talked to Mrs. Beard the next day and she "was very concerned that her conduct with the attorney general might cost her her job."

Nunn said he had no discussions with Mitchell about ITT or the financing of the GOP convention. He said Mrs. Beard discussed the Anderson story with him once shortly before it was published.

"Mrs. Beard called me and said my name is being used in a column with the memorandum," he testified. "She said she hoped she didn't embarrass me. I said it sounded like she was doing a little name-dropping. She said say what you want and hung up. I got the impression she was apologizing."

He said Premier Chou En-lai spent 2½ hours with him alone, a longer time than any government head at the preceding four summit conferences Rogers attended. He missed Nixon's session with Chairman Mao Tse Tung because that was called on short notice, he said. Rogers also served notice that within his definition of the traditional above-politics role of the secretary of State in campaign years, he intends to speak out from time to time in behalf of Nixon's foreign policy. "I plan not to take part in partisan political activities in the sense of attending political rallies and making speeches at political meetings and fund-raising drives..." he said.

Editor to Surrender

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — It was expected that terms would be reached today where-by Harry Wood, executive editor of the Texarkana Gazette and News, would surrender and answer a contempt citation issued by Circuit Court Judge John Goodson of Texarkana. Goodson ordered the arrest Tuesday of Wood because Wood published a story on a trial verdict in defiance of a court order. Wood tried to arrange to surrender Tuesday when Goodson issued the arrest order but no arrangement could be made because Goodson could not be found. Wood wanted Goodson located before he surrendered because the judge refused to set bond in advance and Wood faced remaining in jail until the judge reappeared. Goodson issued the arrest warrant after Wood failed to appear at a hearing to answer a contempt citation issued against him by Goodson Friday.

Mills also revealed he would actively campaign in the Tennessee Democratic presidential primary. He had announced this past weekend that he would actively campaign in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. He did not say how actively he would campaign. Mills said he watched the New Hampshire election returns on television and had not been in contact with his New Hampshire headquarters. Advertising executive Deloss Walker of West Memphis, who was at Mills' New Hampshire headquarters Tuesday night, said "everyone was pleased with this figure," referring to the number of votes Mills received. Walker said that he is convinced that if Mills' name had appeared on the ballot and he had actively campaigned in the state, "the congressman would have received 25 per cent of the total votes cast."

Mills Surprised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Tuesday night he was "surprised that I got as many votes as I did" in the New Hampshire presidential primary.

Unofficial returns showed Mills with 5 per cent of the total votes cast.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, captured the lead-off presidential primary and Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., made a strong second-place showing.

Mills, in a telephone interview, conceded he did not like a write-in campaign. He added, "If you don't let the people see you, they won't vote for you."

He said because of the limited campaigning he did in New Hampshire, he did not expect to receive the almost 4,000 votes he did.

Mills also revealed he would actively campaign in the Tennessee Democratic presidential primary. He had announced this past weekend that he would actively campaign in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. He did not say how actively he would campaign. Mills said he watched the New Hampshire election returns on television and had not which he said would give him a big boost across the country. As counting in the separate vote for the 20 delegate spots continued through the night, far behind the preference totals, early indications of the expected Muskie sweep faded and McGovern's backers moved toward a possible split of the delegation. By 7 a.m. EST, with 38 per cent of the delegate vote counted, the tally showed Muskie with 11 delegates, McGovern with nine, The 20 delegates will cast 18 convention votes. The increasing chance of a split return in the contest for delegates further clouded the showing of Muskie as he headed for a tough contest in Florida next week without the overwhelming New England sendoff that would have strengthened his bid for the White House.

Muskie Is Winner in New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the winner of New Hampshire's lead-off Democratic primary, fought today for control of the state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention in an unexpectedly close primary contest with Sen. George S. McGovern.

The South Dakota senator enhanced his presidential credentials by polling well over one-third of the vote in the presidential preference primary, a strong second-place showing

Key Figures Still to Testify Before Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating why the Justice Department dropped its biggest antitrust suit still are awaiting first-hand testimony from three key figures.

Two of the three—former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and newspaper columnist Jack Anderson—may be heard today. The third, Dita D. Beard, lobbyist for the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., is hospitalized in Denver.

Mitchell and Anderson were scheduled to take the Judiciary Committee witness stand today, following Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, former Justice antitrust chief Richard McLaren and Felix Rohatyn, an ITT director.

Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general may hang in the balance of the committee hearings. It remained uncertain whether the committee will be able to question Mrs. Beard, described in testimony Tuesday as an embarrassing guest at a Kentucky Derby dinner party.

Bomb Rips Empty TWA Plane at Las Vegas

By LEE GOULD
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Despite two searches and the presence of armed guards, a bomb exploded inside an unoccupied Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner here today. It apparently was part of an extortion scheme which has triggered a worldwide bomb threat against TWA jetliners, authorities said.

The bomb, planted in or near the cockpit, exploded at 3:55 a.m., about seven hours after the plane arrived nonstop from New York with 10 passengers and a seven-member crew. It ripped a huge hole in the front fuselage, hurling debris for 100 feet at McCarran International Airport.

Law officers and TWA officials said they felt the bomb was one of those a mysterious extortionist has said he planted on TWA jetliners in order to get $2 million in ransom from the airline.

Trained dogs sniffed out a bomb Tuesday in a cockpit of a TWA jetliner en route from New York to Los Angeles after the plane returned to New York. No other bombs have been reported found.

No one had any idea how the bomb got aboard the plane here. It had been searched from nose to tail before leaving New York and upon landing in Las Vegas, said Charles Wyre, TWA general manager in Las Vegas.

In addition, two deputies guarded the four-engine 707 and three other TWA jetliners, of which were parked together in a loading area about 300 yards from the main terminal. The other planes were not damaged by the blast. One deputy was inspecting the plane from the outside when the bomb exploded and he said, "It sounded like dynamite."

7th Successive Days to Raids

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers attacked antiaircraft defenses inside North Vietnam Tuesday for the seventh successive day, and more than a score of B52 bombers flew heavy raids south of the demilitarized zone today and Tuesday the U.S. Command announced.

It said a flight of F4 Phantoms bombed an antiaircraft artillery site about 25 miles north of the DMZ after the guns fired at a reconnaissance plane. A spokesman said the results were unknown, and there was no damage to the U.S. aircraft.

It was the 20th attack on antiaircraft defenses in North Vietnam reported since last Wednesday.

The command also announced that a Navy A4 fighter returning from a mission either in Laos or South Vietnam crashed north of Da Nang. The pilot was rescued but was injured, a spokesman said. He reported that the cause of the crash was not known.

South of the DMZ, the U.S. Command reported, B52s flew nine missions against suspected North Vietnamese base camps around Khe Sanh and the A Shau Valley, a sector the big bombers have been hitting with regularity.

South Vietnamese forces reported killing 23 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in three clashes south of Da Nang, in the central highlands near Ban Me Thuot and in the U Minh forest in the Mekong Delta.

In Phnom Penh, meanwhile, the Cambodian command said its troops have retaken the Mekong River island of Koh Sotin from Communist forces after 10 days of fighting and aerial bombardment.

The large island is 45 miles north of Phnom Penh and just south of the provincial capital of Kompong Cham.

The command spokesman, Lt. Col. Am Rong, said air strikes early Tuesday killed at least 100 enemy troops trying to withdraw to the east bank of the river in sampans. He said 10 sampans were destroyed, and that after the island was recaptured, government troops blew up eight heavily fortified bunkers that the Communists had built.

Government casualties in the 10-day operation were given as 15 killed and more than 63 wounded.

In northwest Cambodia, field sources reported more fighting near Siem Reap and the Angkor temple ruins. The sources said an estimated 1,000 enemy soldiers were harassing security troops along the highway between Siem Reap and Battambang, the other major center in the northwest.

The sources said the Cambodians made two attacks to clear Communist troops from villages five miles southeast of Siem Reap. They said so far 700 villagers have been liberated, but the Communists made off with a good portion of the rice crop.

Law School Deception

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette quoted today a "confidential" report by a University of Arkansas Law School faculty committee which allegedly contended that retiring law school Dean Ralph Barnhart "has been caught in enough deceptions to raise strong doubts about the value of his work."

Barnhart announced Jan. 31 that he would retire Sept. 1.

The report, which contained insights into the internal politics of the troubled law school and the university administration, was prepared by the Committee on Faculty Tenure and Promotion.

It originally was presented to the university administration in August in an attempt to remove James W. Gallman, who is a professor of law.

The report said Gallman, who is a "fulltime" professor, is maintaining a private law practice, violating both university policy and that of the American Bar Association.

It also criticizes Gallman's record as a teacher and a scholar and states that Barnhart has been responsible for the hiring, promotion and awarding of tenure by the Association of American Law Schools.

Representatives of the ABA and the AALS will be in Fayetteville March 29-30 investigating the school.

The report also charges that during meetings with faculty members in the summer of 1970, Palmer Pilcher, academic vice president, "had consistently manifested complete accord with the faculty committee's conclusion that Barnhart had deceived and misled the committee and Pilcher himself."

Pilcher "regaled faculty members with stories of Barnhart's incompetence as dean—tales which he indicated have assumed legendary status within administrative circles locally," the report said.

Rumors of the report have been circulating for about a month, but officials have refused to discuss it.

Falsely Accused, Says Comedian

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope says "I've been falsely accused of being pro-war."

"It's like accusing a doctor who gives a patient two aspirins for a headache of being pro-headache," Hope added Tuesday night in hitting back at criticism of him in connection with a church award.

The New York City Council of Churches last year reversed its decision to give him its annual Family of Man award after protests that he was identified with the war.

Hope, who has entertained troops regularly in Vietnam, told the 23rd annual dinner of Religion in American Life that he could never be "pro-war. I've seen too much of it."

Defense Suggesting FBI's Star Witness Has Lied

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Defense lawyers at the conspiracy trial of the Rev. Philip Berrigan and six other persons are seeking to destroy the credibility of FBI informer Boyd Douglas Jr. and have suggested that the government's star witness may have fabricated part of his testimony.

"I did not make it up," the 31-year-old ex-convict replied Tuesday during the start of what is expected to be a lengthy and vigorous cross-examination that continues today.

Douglas ignored the steady glances of the defendants, facing him sometimes smiling across the courtroom, and fixed his gaze on the jury of nine women and three men who watched him carefully.

Ramsey Clark, the former attorney general who heads the defense team, said Douglas may have been planted by the FBI to entrap the militant anti-war priest when the two were inmates at the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary in the spring and summer of 1970.

Berrigan was serving six years for destroying draft files. It is during this period, the government claims, that Berrigan masterminded a plot to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, blow up the heating tunnels in Washington, D.C., and vandalize draft boards around the country as means to change U.S. war policies in Indochina.

The defendants have characterized the prosecution as a "frameup."

Under a sort of rambling, stop-and-go cross-examination, Douglas repeatedly denied it was at the FBI's suggestion that he discussed explosives, guns and kidnapping with Berrigan.

Q. In conversations you had with Father Philip Berrigan you mentioned explosives before he ever did.

A. No, I did not.

Q. In fact, you told him you were a demolitions expert in the Army before there was any mention of the D.C. project.

A. No. Before this he mentioned putting an explosive device inside the computer system at the Pentagon. Then he talked about the tunnel system, and that explosives might be necessary. Only after these conversations did I tell him I was a demolitions expert.

Q. You were the only one to mention a gun to Father Berrigan.

A. I was not.

Q. But you did say you suggested it to him after the discussion about the kidnapping, if that took place.

A. I told him I couldn't see how it could be done without the use of guns, and he said he hoped we could use blanks instead of real bullets.

No Oklahoma Bonds

By JERRY SCARBROUGH
Associated Press Writer
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Gov. David Hall's $250 million highway bond issue took it on the chin Tuesday, losing by more than a 3-1 margin and carrying only six of the state's 77 counties.

With 3,001 of the state's 3,003 precincts reporting, the vote was 114,652 for and 363,676 against.

Nearly half a million Oklahomans voted on the controversial "Freeway 77" plan and 76 per cent of them voted "no." Only Atoka, Haskell, Jackson, Pushmataha, Sequoyah and Tillman county voters favored the plan.

In the remainder of the state it failed by margins ranging as high as 10-1. The governor even lost in his home Tulsa County precinct by a 259-42 margin. Voters in Oklahoma and Tulsa counties turned down the bonds by 5-1 margins.

Hall and his supporters had expected to lose in the two big counties, but they counted on rural voters to turn out en masse to support the bond issue. The rural voters did turn out en masse, but they, too, overwhelmingly rejected the plan.

Hall, accepting defeat in the first issue he has taken to the voters since his election in 1970, termed the result a "minor disappointment," but said he does not believe it will hurt his political future.

The Democratic governor said he "tried honestly to explain the program, and now, as it is fitting and responsible, we have seen the returns."

Hall challenged his "partisan opponents to replace their objections with positive recommendations" and said he will continue to offer positive leadership for the state.

Foes of the bond plan hailed the defeat as a repudiation of Hall's campaign methods.

Henocide: Just a Word to Up Price of Eggs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henocide! the congressman cried, "a fowl deed about to take wing! A chicken-hearted concoction by bird barons!"

It's also known as an egg-market-control bill.

But, "plucked down to bare facts," Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., told the House Tuesday, a bill being written by the Senate Agriculture Committee "is nothing more than a scheme to use the lethal authority of government to force up the market price of eggs by killing hens."

"Imagine the cluckings Ralph Nader and his raiders will give forth when they hear of henocide. But loud as may be these cluckings," Findley said, "they will be smothered to nothing in feather-flying fury when gals of women's lib discover this ugly ultimate in male chauvinism."

"They will surely ungirdle their sharpest clawings for those who would slaughter only female chickens—doing nothing, not even harmless, painless vasectomy to the males, the real perpetrators of production. Surely, they will bare their beaks and demand roost-ercide instead of henocide."

The Senate Agriculture Committee is due to meet Thursday to work on a bill setting up a national egg board which would devise a program to submit to a producer referendum, a committee aide said.

When the price of eggs fell below the cost of production for at least three months, the board would issue temporary chicken-slaughter orders to cut flocks and drive up egg prices, the aide said.

Findley said his understanding is that after a decision by the advisory board, the secretary of Agriculture could mandate a cut in laying fowl, with a $5,000 penalty for each violation.

"In truth, the bill would set up an eggopoly able to get the feds to ban the chopping block with penalties of violators set at $5,000 a cackle. With anti-trust immunity, the eggopoly could engage in a premeditated conspiracy to raise consumer prices with hardly any fuss and feathers," he added.

Fair, Mild for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and mild temperatures are forecast for Arkansas through Thursday.

The state's weather is being controlled by a large high pressure system which will continue to spread southward and eastward behind a cold front.

The cold front moved through Arkansas Tuesday and Tuesday night. Heavy thunderstorms formed ahead of the front with heavy rain and some hail reported in the southern portion of the state. A severe thunderstorm watch was in effect for 16 counties in South Arkansas from Tuesday evening until after midnight.

Highs today should be in the mid 50s to upper 60s. Highs Thursday should be in the 60s to low 70s.

Lows tonight are forecast in the upper 20s north to near 40 south.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 35, Harrison 32, Jonesboro 38, Pine Bluff 45, Texarkana 52, El Dorado 50, Memphis 38, Little Rock 37 and Fort Smith 37.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. include a trace at Harrison, .01 at Little Rock, .07 at Jonesboro, .04 at Texarkana, .08 at Memphis, .26 at Pine Bluff and .52 at El Dorado.

BILLY RAY SMITH

Billy Ray Smith, formerly of Augusta, Arkansas but now associated with White, Weld & Company, Investment Bankers of Dallas, and an Ex-Arkansas Football great, was the Kiwanis speaker at their Tuesday meeting. He was presented by Kiwanian Tom Ed Hays, Jr., who arranged the program.

After starring at Arkansas. Mr. Smith was drafted into Professional Football, playing for Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, and Baltimore during his Pro Career of thirteen years.

It was in 1971 that Billy Ray was a member of the Baltimore Colts Super Bowl Team.

After relating a number of most interesting personal experiences while in pro ball, Mr. Smith opened the meeting for questions and found his audience ready for some answers. One question was, "Among the living pro coaches, whom do you consider the very best?" Mr. Smith replied that he thought most pro coaches were excellent but that in his opinion Buddy Parker and Don Schula are the greatest.

When asked whom he considered the best Quarterback in Pro Football, he quickly replied, "John Unitas."

One questioner directed a question concerning the players pension to Mr. Smith. He was asked when he could start drawing a pension and what amount he would receive? "Based on present market conditions," he said, "I can start drawing about $1,500 a month when I reach age 55, and then look out catfish in the White River at Augusta."

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Bill McKenzie, son of Dr.

Jim McKenzie, Bill White, an executive with the new steel plant, and Rudy Alvarado of the Area Office of HUD.

Dewey Baber, a former Kiwanian, rejoined the club as an active member.

Two Children Die in Fire

WILMOT, Ark. (AP) — Two children died Monday when fire destroyed their frame home east of here near the Ashley County line.

Authorities identified the victims as Terry Dunn, 2, and Thomas J. Dunn, one month, children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunn.

Authorities said Mrs. Dunn was hanging out clothes late Monday afternoon when the house suddenly became engulfed in flames.

Mrs. Dunn received severe burns trying to save her four children in the house. The other two children also suffered severe burns.

Laneburg School Auction

The annual auction at Laneburg School will be held on Friday, March 31, 1972, beginning at 7:00 p.m. This event is sponsored by the Laneburg P.T.A. and the auctioneer will be J.B. Rowe, Jr. from Hope.

The auction will be held in the Agriculture Building across the street from the main building. Proceeds will go toward the P.T.A. project of the year.

Porker Player Shot

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Archie Bennett, 21, a defensive tackle at the University of Arkansas, was shot in the abdomen early today in a room at the Wilson Sharp House, the athletes' dormitory at Arkansas.

Ronald Edward Revard, 21, a center for the Razorbacks, said he placed a .22-caliber rifle in Bennett's stomach as a joke and that the gun went off accidentally.

Revard told police that other athletes were in the room watching television when the incident occurred.

"We had the gun out most of the night just messing around with it," Revard told officers. "We loaded it to see if it would hold 10 shells. I cocked it but thought it was on safety."

Revard told police the shooting occurred during a discussion over how to divide some TV dinners.

Revard said Bennett said something to Jim Payne to intimidate him. Revard said Payne asked him if he could eat the food and he said yes.

"I stuck the gun in Archie's stomach, just kidding him, and intimidating him back," Revard said. "Archie moved to do something and my hand moved forward and the gun went off, once. By intimidating, I mean just kidding, not serious."

Revard said coach Lon Farrell was informed of the shooting and that Farrell called an ambulance.

Bennett, interviewed by police at a Fayetteville hospital, said the shooting was an accident. No report was available on Bennett's condition.

No Triumph Showing for Anyone in N.H. Voting

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's New Hampshire presidential primary showing is neither the triumph the front-running Democrat sought nor the political blow his rivals claim.

It is, rather, the first installment in a long, arduous season of primary contests, and it will be eclipsed in a week by the verdict of the voters in Florida.

Muskie won, which he had to do.

He ran comfortably ahead of Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, who nonetheless enhanced his credentials as a presidential contender with a hefty second-place showing.

But Muskie could not muster a clear majority of the Democratic vote in his contest with McGovern and three other significant challengers.

It was McGovern who emerged as the chief political beneficiary in that phase of the primary. His showing, with more than a third of the total Democratic vote, multiplied his standing in national opinion polls, which rated him the presidential choice of only 6 per cent of Democrats.

McGovern managers hope the New Hampshire showing will boost their man when the pollsters next sample public opinion.

In the preferential vote, with over 90 per cent of the ballots counted, Muskie's share was 48 per cent, McGovern's 37.

In another phase of the primary, Muskie was far ahead in the contest for the delegates who will cast nominating votes at the Democratic national convention.

Partial returns gave him 16 of the 20 delegates who will cast New Hampshire's 18 votes.

That was short of the sweep his managers had expected.

But it fits into the Muskie game plan: Enter almost every contest, collect every available delegate in quest of the magic 1,509. That is the number it will take to nominate when Democrats convene in Miami Beach, Fla., next July 10.

In that effort, the crucial contests are ahead. Muskie hopes are high for a major victory in Illinois, where 170 delegates will be at stake in a March 21 primary.

A more impressive New Hampshire showing could have provided a psychological boost in the delegate-collecting effort. It also might have helped in Florida, where 11 Democrats are in the race, and where Muskie strategists fear he might finish third, behind Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Muskie remains the man any other Democrat must beat to gain the nomination. But the bandwagon days, fashioned around the preprimary endorsements of Democratic leaders and officeholders, are over for now.

The senator from Maine has 23 more primaries in which to try to bring them back; his rivals have that many opportunities to stop him.

McClellan Wants Some Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday he hoped that a solution to the hospital-closing crisis in Northeast Arkansas could be reached within a week to 10 days.

McClellan met in his office Tuesday with three representatives of the Social Security Administration to discuss the recent closing of the Shaneyfelt Hospital in Manila and the Rodman Hospital in Leachville.

The facilities recently lost their eligibility for medicare and have been forced, for economic reasons, to curtail services.

The purpose of Tuesday's meeting was to discuss possible solutions whereby medicare eligibility could be reinstated for the two hospitals.

Gov. Dale Bumpers first mentioned the possibility of a compromise solution on March 2 when he proposed that medicare eligibility be reinstated until July 1973 with the understanding that the Shaneyfelt Hospital would attempt to meet the standards for qualification into the program, McClellan's office said.

The senator said he agreed the hospitals had a number of deficiencies that prevent their eligibility in the medicare program but because the two facilities did not attempt major surgery or critical operations he felt that some latitude in the enforcement of the standards could be granted.

"It is, therefore, my opinion that if Dr. Shaneyfelt and Dr. Rodman take immediate action to bring their facilities up to standard, the Social Security Administration should go the second mile in the interest in providing health care service for Leachville and Manila by allowing an additional time period for improvement," McClellan said.

Birthday Celebration

Children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren of Mrs. Susie McJunkins of Saratoga will help her to celebrate her 88th birthday on Sunday, March 12, at her home. She lives at the same location where she was born, and this is the third home her family has built there.

She and her husband, the late Will McJunkins, started life together on a black land farm given them by her husband's father, Sam McJunkins. The land is still in the family. She remembers her husband running cattle in what is now the Millwood area and taking them with other cattlemen by rail to market in St. Louis. He died at the age of 31.

A magnolia tree thought to be the second largest in the state was planted by Mrs. McJunkins when she was 15, and since it first bloomed, the blossoms have been used to decorate the Saratoga School at graduation.

Mrs. McJunkins has four living children, one deceased, seven living grandchildren, one killed in service, and seven great-grandchildren. She has seen many changes and feels they have all been for the best.

South's vulnerable four-spade bid would not meet with the approval of anyone who doesn't like to take any chances but it certainly meets with ours. South has nine top tricks. He has an excellent chance to pick up a tenth if his partner can produce any cards at all or if the defense slips.

The defense starts with three rounds of diamonds. South trumps the third lead and if he wants to put the maximum pressure on the defense he will lead his three of hearts immediately.

If East lets dummy hold just one heart trick it will be all over. South will run out the rest of the tricks for his contract.

What sort of East player will grab that first heart? The sort of player who always takes his aces at the first opportunity will come out very well here.

How about a good player? If he is playing with a poor partner he is very likely to go wrong on the theory that South might well have jumped to four spades with just a seven card suit.

If the good player is playing with a good partner there will be no way for him to go wrong. When South leads the three of hearts good player West will play the eight spot. This play will tell his partner that he has an even number of hearts. It won't require much thought on East's part to decide that this is showing four, so East will go right up with his ace, return the nine of trump and wait for the setting trick.

Holdouts Seeking Plenty of Cash Hope Star

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. Louis Cardinals dropped the other shoe in contract negotiations with their holdouts Tuesday but it missed two of the four problem players.

The Cards invoked the seldom used baseball law which allows clubs to order holdouts to report to training camp no later than March 10 under the renewal clause in their contracts.

Hit with the ruling were pitcher Jerry Reuss and catcher Ted Simmons. But the Cards were not able to contact their other two dissatisfied players—first baseman Bob Burda and third baseman Joe Torre.

Torre, the National League's betting champion and Most Valuable Player, will be the toughest autograph for Cardinal owner Gussie Busch, in camp or out. He wants $150,000—several thousand more than Busch is ready to spend.

Two other holdouts ended Tuesday when pitcher Carl Morton signed with the Montreal Expos and outfielder Merv Rettenmund agreed to terms with the Baltimore Orioles. Morton received a token raise while Rettenmund got a bigger jump, probably into the $40,000 class.

In exhibition games, the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates bombed Boston 13-1, the New York Mets jolted Detroit 9-3, the New York Yankees outslugged the Texas Rangers 14-9 and Minnesota downed the Chicago White Sox 9-6.

The Pirates got four-hit pitching from Bob Moose, Bob Veale and Bruce Kison and bunched five runs in the fifth inning and six more in the ninth to rip the Red Sox.

The Yankees collected eight hits including doubles by Ron Swoboda and George Pena for an eight-run seventh inning to beat Texas. Pena had homered earlier and Don Mincher connected for the Rangers.

Charlie Manuel drove in three runs with a homer and a single, rallying the Twins past the White Sox.

Doubles by Wayne Garrett and Ted Martinez and a triple by Tim Lincecum exploded that led the Mets over the Tigers. All three are candidates for third base for the Mets, replacing Jim Fregosi, who is sidelined for a month with a broken thumb.

Athletic Future at AM&N to Be Aired

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Vanette Johnson, athletic director at Arkansas AM&N College in Pine Bluff, said Tuesday night that athletic department officials and the school's administrators would meet today to "discuss the future of sports" at AM&N.

Earlier Tuesday, Southern State College at Magnolia announced that it would not participate in future athletic events involving AM&N because of the disturbance at the Southern State-AM&N basketball game Monday night in Arkadelphia.

"We are not going to participate any more in sports with AM&N because of their students' behavior," said Dr. Imron Bruce, SSC president. "I look for our conference (AIC) to do something about that."

AM&N students were blamed by officials for starting a disturbance which included chair and bottle throwing and fistfights at Monday night's game. Fifteen persons were injured in the melee.

Johnson called the incident "shocking" but he said AM&N students were not solely the blame for the disturbance. He said part of the blame should be shared by Southern State.

Johnson said AM&N "could not continue to operate an athletic program under these conditions."

Rivercrest in Upset

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Wilton Rivercrest upset fourth-ranked Subiaco 64-60 Tuesday in the first game to go into overtime in the Class AA state basketball tournament.

Subiaco jumped to an early lead and held a 34-25 halftime advantage, but led by only one point, 45-44, entering the final period.

Willie Miles of Rivercrest hit a layup with 10 seconds left in regulation time to tie the score at 55-55.

Don Littleton hit two quick field goals in the overtime and the four-point margin proved to be enough to assure Rivercrest the victory. Miles led Rivercrest with 21 points.

Rufus Washington and Jack Shulte had 15 each for Subiaco.

In other Class AA games, Altheimer defeated Monticello 48-45 and Conway rolled over Marvell 52-34.

Conway took a 23-18 halftime lead and outscored Marvell in the final two quarters to coast to victory.

Hal Crafton and Marvin Delph had 15 to pace the winners and Ray Franks scored 12 to lead Marvell.

Altheimer took the early lead in the second quarter and held on to defeat Monticello.

Altheimer, behind Clinton Barnett's 15 points, took a 26-22 lead at halftime.

It's Ouachita, Southern S.

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Ouachita and Southern State were to collide today in the championship game of the NAIA District 17 playoffs at Arkadelphia.

Ouachita romped past Henderson Tuesday 76-66 to gain a spot in the championships. Southern State had defeated Arkansas AM&N 99-82 Monday night.

Ouachita constructed what proved to be an insurmountable lead of 39-26 at the half and stretched that margin to as much as 16 points at one time in the second half.

The closest that Henderson could come to the Tigers was eight points.

Tommy Patterson and Jim Hamilton each scored 23 points to lead Ouachita. Bill Hodges added 17.

Larry Bray was high point man for the game with 30 points.

Mike Peterson and Jerry Clay each had 11 for Henderson.

Record List of 3-Year-Olds

NEW YORK (AP) — A record list of 208 3-year-old thoroughbreds was nominated Tuesday for the 1977 Belmont Stakes, including Riva Ridge, the winter book favorite.

Riva Ridge won seven of his nine starts last year, including a final string of five consecutive stakes victories en route to the 2-year-old championship.

The $125,000 Belmont Stakes, third leg of racing's Triple Crown, will be run for the 104th time at Belmont Park on June 10.

Bold Pep Is Top Weighted

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Bold Pep, top-weighted at 122 pounds with jockey Jack Fieselman aboard, heads a field of 16 four-year-olds and upward in today's $10,000 feature at Oaklawn Park.

Racing under $25,000 claiming conditions, six other horses will carry second top-weight of 118 pounds. They are Red Chamer, Clem's Star, Signor Valenti, Red N White, Sea O Joe and King's Demand.

Others to compete over the six furlongs will be Coconut Row, 115; Yuik-San, 117; Bop-davelle, 105; Big King, 115; Patient Hands, 115; Timely Gift, 115; Satin Gold, 115; Pango Moon, 115, and Windy Maker, 115.

In Tuesday's $8,000 feature, M.F. Niemeyer's Lying Ed held off a mild challenge by Fire Fire in the back stretch to score a wire-to-wire victory over six other 3-year-olds and upward.

As a close third choice in the field, the 3-year-old colt, making his first start over a distance, paid $7, $3.40 and $2.20. Late charging Frosty Brown returned $3.80 and $2.20 and the favorite Fleet Grounded returned $2.20 for show.

Lying Ed covered the 1 mile and 70 yards in 1:43.

Jockey E.J. Knapp booted home a winning triple Tuesday. He was aboard Paylaysia in the third, Mae Will in the fourth and Miss Wa Hoo in the fifth.

McDaniels to Pay Money Back

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Former Western Kentucky basketball All-American Jim McDaniels says he loves his alma mater and will pay back the $66,318 that it is being asked to return to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"I love Western Kentucky, and I want to do what's right. I'm ready to give them the $66,000 in the form of scholarships or however they want it because those people could not have treated me better," McDaniels told the Louisville Courier-Journal Tuesday.

The NCAA has asked Western Kentucky to forfeit its third-place finish in last year's NCAA basketball championship and to return its tournament receipts.

During the 1961-62 season, Wilt Chamberlain, then with Philadelphia, played 47 consecutive games in which he did not miss a minute of playing time.

Minnesota Gets Sweet Win and Big 10 Title

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
How sweet it is for the beleaguered Minnesota Gophers.

"It's a great thrill to win the Big Ten," said Bill Musselman, who suffered through the much-publicized fracas against Ohio State and tons of ensuing criticism but became the youngest coach ever to win a Big Ten basketball title when 16th-ranked Minnesota held off Purdue 49-48 Tuesday night.

Three other teams joined the Gophers in capturing NCAA Tournament berths. Unranked Kansas State upset No. 18 Missouri 79-76 for the Big Eight crown, two free throws by Scooter Lenox with 39 seconds left gave Texas a 91-89 overtime victory over Southern Methodist in a Southwest Conference playoff and Ohio University's Todd Lalich scored with one second to play in overtime to give the Bobcats a 69-67 Mid-American Conference playoff triumph over Toledo.

In the three-way Ohio Valley playoff, Morehead State turned back Western Kentucky 82-79 and will face Eastern Kentucky tonight for the NCAA spot.

Minnesota's cliffhanger triumph over Purdue enabled the Gophers to finish one game ahead of Ohio State, which beat Michigan State 92-73, and gave the Gophers their first outright Big Ten championship since 1919.

But it wasn't easy as Minnesota blew almost all of a 15-point lead in the second half but held on as Purdue missed two free throws and two desperation shots down the stretch.

"The last 13 seconds was the longest I've ever spent," first-year Coach Musselman said in the surprisingly quiet dressing room.

"They're as good as any champion I've seen," said Purdue's George King, "and I think they'll represent us well. They'll match up well with anyone."

Bob Ford of Purdue led all scorers with 24 points while Clyde Turner and Jim Brewster had 12 apiece for Minnesota, which went into a stall and didn't take a shot in the final 8:13.

Ohio State's balance—all five starters scored in double figures, led by Wardell Jackson 19 points—offset a 30-point performance by Michigan State Mike Robinson but the defending champions still finished one game behind Minnesota.

What about the National Invitation Tournament for the 18-6 Buckeyes?

"I don't know," said Coach Fred Taylor. "I don't want to comment on it."

Sveve Mitchell, a 6-foot-junior, was the key to Kansas State's win at Missouri. He hook shot put the Wildcats ahead to stay 71-70 with 21 minutes left. He added a three-point play with a minute remaining and Ernie Kusnyer two free throws and three by Lon Kruger closed out the Kansas State scoring.

Parkview Is Winner

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Defending champion Little Rock Parkview defeated Helena Central 83-71 Tuesday in the Class AAA-AAAA state basketball tournament in Little Rock.

In other AAA-AAAA games, El Dorado upset Blytheville 56-53 and Hot Springs defeated Pine Bluff 54-46.

Raymond Hopes scored 10 of his 17 points in the final period as Parkview pulled away from Central for the victory.

Dexter Reed led Parkview, winner of the AAA title last year, with 25 points. Alfred Lowe had 19, Hopes 17 and Floyd Booth 16.

Velmos Williams paced Helena with 16.

James White scored 13 fourth-quarter points to boost Hot Springs to victory over Pine Bluff.

The Trojans jumped to a 10-2 lead early in the game and led 25-22 at halftime, but Pine Bluff held the edge going into the fourth period, 32-20. Hot Springs managed to take the lead for good with 2:34 left when Kirk Oliver grabbed a rebound and put it back in the basket.

White led Hot Springs with 23 points and Pete Campbell had 10. Robert Birden was the only Pine Bluff player in double figures with 31.

Blytheville led El Dorado 34-23 at the half, but El Dorado tied it 41-41 late in the third period on a free throw by Jim Crow.

The Wildcats took the early lead in the fourth quarter on a jump shot by Freddie Anderson and increased their margin from there to as much as seven points. Tommy Cottrell's free throw with four seconds left iced the victory.

Jim Crow led all scorers with 18 points. Cottrell had 14.

Independent Cage Meet

A Men's Independent Basketball Tournament will begin at Laneburg High School Gym Monday, March 13, through Saturday, March 18. This event is sponsored by the Junior class, Senior class and Athletic Department of Laneburg High School.

Any independent men's team is welcome to participate. The entry fee is $15 per team and should be paid to either Wayne Loe in Hope or Mrs. Loyd Smittle at Laneburg School.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Former Western Kentucky basketball All-American Jim McDaniels says he loves his alma mater and will pay back the $66,318 that it is being asked to return to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"I love Western Kentucky, and I want to do what's right. I'm ready to give them the $66,000 in the form of scholarships or however they want it because those people could not have treated me better," McDaniels told the Louisville Courier-Journal Tuesday.

The NCAA has asked Western Kentucky to forfeit its third-place finish in last year's NCAA basketball championship and to return its tournament receipts.

During the 1961-62 season, Wilt Chamberlain, then with Philadelphia, played 47 consecutive games in which he did not miss a minute of playing time.

Skate Spot on Russians

CALGARY (AP) — Aleksei Ulanov and Irina Rodina, in the spotlight on and off the ice at the World Figure Skating Championships, are making a spectacular bid to retain their pairs' title.

The Russian pair, defending their crown, for a third consecutive year, received two perfect marks Tuesday, the first time perfect marks have been awarded in preliminary performance in World Pairs' competition.

They are heavily favored to take the title again when they skate their final program tonight.

Chaps Roll to Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This was the kind of night it was for the Pittsburgh Condors, who showed up for Tuesday's American Basketball Association game against Dallas with six healthy players.

They outscored the Chaparrals 13-3 over one stretch of the second period. That cut their halftime deficit to 31 points—77-46.

The Chaps went on to a 143-108 victory over the outmanned Condors with Steve Jones pumping in 30 points and Donnie Freeman adding 26.

Elsewhere in the ABA Tuesday night, Kentucky downed New York 117-112 in overtime, Carolina topped the Floridians 116-108 and Utah took Denver 116-108.

All scorers in the Condors-Chaparrals game with 42 points, including 14 in the second period when the losers chopped 10 points off what had built to a 41-point lead.

Ex-Nets Les Hunter sank New York, coming off the bench to score 26 points for Kentucky, including the tying basket with just two seconds left in regulation time and the Colonels' go-ahead basket in overtime.

Dan Issel led Kentucky with 34 and Bill Melchionni had 29 for the Nets.

Carolina withstood a late Floridian rally to hang on for a vital victory in the East Division.

The triumph moved the Cougars within one game of the Floridians in the battle for the fourth and final playoff berth.

Carolina had a 14-point lead chopped to one with 5½ minutes to play but then pulled away for the victory. Joe Caldwell led the Cougars with 23 points while Gene Little had 21 and Larry Miller 19. Warren Jabali led the Floridians with 23 including three three-point baskets.

Willie Wise hit 30 points in the second half and finished with 43 to lead Utah past Denver. Zelmo Beaty added 32 for the Stars, including 22 in the second half.

Ralph Simpson had 33 for Denver, which led by as much as 16 points in the first half.

Millwood Lake Is Stocked With Northern Pike

—Donald Jones photos, Arkansas G&F Commission

Some 4,500 Northern Pike measuring from 12 to 14 inches, were released in Millwood Reservoir by the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission Monday. The fish were purchased from a private fish farm in Minnesota and cost $6,000.

The Northern Pike is an excellent predator and should do real well in Millwood. They are expected to reach 2½ pounds by October this year and from four to six pounds by October 1973, depending upon available food.

Long Made No Request

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gary Brewer, an aide to Gov. Dale Bumpers, said Tuesday that Sen. Russell Long, D-La., had made no request that the governor investigate welfare practices in Arkansas.

Brewer said, however, that Long had asked the governor's office to send him a copy of a memorandum written by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare outlining guidelines governing the disclosure of information on welfare recipients.

It had been reported Monday that Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, would ask Bumpers to see if there were any federal violations in Arkansas in connection with welfare practices.

Blues Split 'Zip Line'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Blues, in their longest season, have split their "Zip Line" and may yet be in a position to make another run on hockey's Stanley Cup.

Coach Al Arbour, desperate for scoring, Tuesday night again separated three hard-firing National Hockey League youngsters and managed to come off with a second victory in three games.

"We had to do something to get better balance," declared Arbour, whose charges whistled past the hapless Los Angeles Kings 4-2 behind Jack Egers' two goals in the jammed NHL West.

The goals were the third and fourth in two games for the 23-year-old Egers, whose line-mates since October had been 24-year-old Garry Unger and 21-year-old Mike Murphy.

Teamed with the veteran Frank St. Marseille at center and Gary Sabourin on right wing, Egers drilled a St. Marseille pass into the net at 2:30 of the opening period and added a goal for good measure at 8:09 of the second.

"Teams were doing too much to stop the Unger-Egers-Murphy line," said Arbour, "and we had too little else to offer."

"I decided that since both Unger and Egers like to shoot from the slot, we might be getting better production if they were on different lines."

Unger, with Phil Roberto on left wing in place of Egers, scored on an unassisted slap shot at 11:26 of the opening period.

And Sabourin, getting assists from Billy Plager and Egers, capped a three-goal St. Louis first stanza by bouncing a shot past Los Angeles netminder Gary Edwards at 12:16.

Super Farm Subsidies Take a Sharp Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of million-dollar "super subsidies" paid by the government to big corporate-type farmers last year was reduced sharply, while payments to smaller producers continued to make up the lion's share of the total, according to the Agriculture Department.

A list of payments to farmers for participating in 1971 crop programs showed only two over $1 million, compared with nine in 1970. Both were to sugar companies.

The payment list, made public Monday, listed by name only those recipients who got $5,000 or more last year.

A statistical analysis, also made available, showed more than 85 per cent of the payments were for less than $5,000 last year, about in line with the historical pattern, according to records.

Last year all payments totaled more than $3.1 billion, including those to cotton, wheat and feed grain producers who were limited to $55,000 per crop. Sugar payments are not covered by the lid.

The total was paid to about 2.4 million farmers. Those getting less than $5,000 each—more than 85 per cent of the total number—received nearly 57 per cent of the $3.1 billion paid out, according to the USDA breakdown.

Put another way, less than 15 per cent of the 1971 payment checks accounted for nearly 44 per cent of the subsidy total.

According to the tables, nearly 17 per cent of all payments were less than $100 each; about $3.4 per cent between $100 and $200; and more than 23 per cent in the $200 to $500 range.

Slightly more than 14 per cent of all 1971 payment checks were between $1,000 and $2,000; less than six per cent in the $2,000 to $3,000 range; and less than three per cent between $3,000 and $4,000 each.

The breakdown showed less than 1.7 per cent of the 1971 payments were between $4,000 and $5,000 each.

9th Grader Charged With Hijacking

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A ninth grader was charged with attempted hijacking after federal authorities said he had tried to commandeer a National Airlines jet at gunpoint to Sweden.

The 14-year-old, identified as Edmund Maddox McKee Jr. of Treasure Island, was talked out of the hijack scheme Tuesday by the pilot, Capt. Ben Horne of Miami, who told the teen-ager the 727 jet did not have the range for such a trip, U.S. marshals said.

Horne convinced the teen-ager to step out into the entrance of the boarding tunnel, where he was overpowered and taken into custody without a struggle, authorities said.

McKee, choked with tears during a detention hearing before U.S. Magistrate Paul Game Jr., was released in the custody of his parents until a hearing March 17.

"This is all a surprise to us," said the boy's father, Edmund McKee Sr., who told Game that his son never had been in trouble before.

Authorities said McKee approached a ticket agent at the head of an escalator leading to the passenger area for National Flight 67 bound for Miami.

McKee reportedly pulled a loaded .22-caliber revolver from a flight bag and told the agent, Ron Jones: "I'm hijacking you and the plane; let's go."

An airline spokesman said the teen-ager then forced the agent to take him aboard the plane to the cockpit.

Jones escorted the youth on board and told Horne, "Captain, I have a young man here who wants to hijack the airplane."

Horne talked to the boy for a few minutes and persuaded him to let the passengers deplane, a source said.

Horne convinced the youth to pack the pistol back into his flight bag and walk with him back into the boarding tunnel, a source stated. Meanwhile, the first ticket agent had alerted a federal marshal who was two gates away.

Marshals said 17 passengers and a crew of seven were aboard.

After the boy was taken into custody the flight was permitted to continue and was about 40 minutes late arriving in Miami on its run from New York with intermediate stops also at Melbourne and Palm Beach, a National spokesman said.

A GRAFFITI EPIDEMIC NEW YORK (AP) — There's a new epidemic in this city. It's called graffiti and scrawls on subway walls and trains are noticeable almost everywhere.

Frank T. Berry, a Transit Authority official, says it costs the city more than a half million dollars a year to remove the scrawls. Most of the markings are drawn by teen-agers using felt-tipped pens.

Do you really want your brother-in-law to know how much you earned last year?

Of course not. It's nobody's business but your own. However, annually millions of tax payers bear this kind of personal information to people who really shouldn't know. For what? Just so they can save a few dollars doing their income tax.

That's some price to pay. You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it with any amateur, you can have your tax return done by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team with complete confidentiality. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices. H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year.

Helen Bottel

Helen Help Us!

Dear Helen:

I've been married 12 years, and for at least half of them, I haven't loved my husband, though I don't hate him yet. We never had a good marriage (both of us were too young for such a decision), but I've tried to suppress my feelings and put on a good show—for the children, the world, and sometimes I guess I even fool my husband.

But I wonder whether living this way is more hurt to all of us than a quick, clean divorce? I constantly think that's what I'll get when the kids are grown, but then it will be too late for both him and me to start over. Don't suggest a counselor—we tried that and it failed.

We hardly ever fight any more. Rarely even argue. But we don't talk about anything vital either. He just broods or makes snide remarks or barks at the kids—and I shrug and try to cover for him.

I never wanted to be the dominant figure, but he's pushed me into it. On one hand, I feel like my husband's mother and, on the other, he treats me like a child, wanting me to ask permission for every little thing. If the children come to me for a decision he resents it, but they know they'll get an automatic "No," with all kinds of self-pitying complaints if they approach him.

He resents me and belittles me—probably because he senses I don't care about him. As you once said, Helen, two mismatched people can be poison for each other, where if they had different mates, they might become really great humans.

I find myself deliberately baiting him (then lapsing into protective silence) as though to make him want to be rid of me. We separated once for a month, and it was the loveliest time of our lives. The children and I felt so much peace and enjoyed so many things together—but all the while I felt very guilty. Am I being selfish? —CONSIDERING DIVORCE

Dear C.D.:

When two people have grown as far apart as you describe, the greatest selfishness, it seems to me, would be in staying together for the sake of appearances, finances, "the children," or just plain lethargy.

A bad marriage brings out the worst in each partner—and the children often suffer the greatest injuries. If you're "constantly thinking of divorce," then for heaven's sakes—SAY it. Get your feelings out in the open where you both can deal with them and, if you can't make a radical change for the better, then part now while there's a chance for a better future. —H. Dear Helen:

About six years ago a wife wrote you a very touching letter about her mis-marriage, how she'd tried to make a go of it, but in spite of herself had fallen in love with a man who had everything her husband lacked—kindness, empathy, love for her children, honesty... You surprised advice-column buffs by understanding her and intimating it wasn't always best to stay with a doomed marriage—even though there wasn't any outright cruelty involved. At that time "lovelorn" columns were so stereotyped that your comments created shock waves. Thank goodness you've helped open them up!

We're wondering: did you ever hear from this woman again? Did she choose duty over happiness? As I recall, you told her that her husband might be as unhappy as she, but trying to make the best of a bad alliance for the same reasons she was—the children, unwillingness to admit failure, social life.

Any developments? —INTERESTED

Dear Interested: Yes, the unhappy and tempted wife wrote me last about two years ago. She was still with her husband, still unhappy, still resisting temptation—and still in love with the other man who "waits but doesn't push."

She and her husband had involved themselves in so many civic and business affairs that they scarcely spoke of personal things. She said, "I guess it's better this way." But I wonder...if I hear from her again after this column is published, I'll let my readers know the outcome, six years later. —H.

Nancy Hall for Sixth Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Treasurer Nancy Hall said Tuesday she would seek election to a sixth term.

Mrs. Hall said she would file on the first day of the filing period, which is March 14-April 4, and would run again on the slogan "I'll be careful with your money."

State Auditor Jimmie "Red" Jones said he was sure he would run again, although he said he had not given much thought yet to his political plans.

Another of the state's constitutional officers, Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, would not comment to newsmen about his political plans.

"If I'm going to run, I want a big press conference just like everybody else. I want to do things right."

Land Commissioner Sam Jones said whether he would run again depended on what his doctor advised. Jones said he had high blood pressure.

The state's three other constitutional officers already have announced their political plans. Gov. Dale Bumpers will seek re-election, Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton says he will run for Congress and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley says he will seek re-election.

CLARK TO DIRECT NEW YORK (AP) — James Clark will direct the ambitious human interest drama "Waldo" which discloses the strange experiences of a man who undergoes total bodily transformations. Shooting will begin in England in January with Stephen W. Jahn and Louis M. Heyward producing.

Two Wounded and Plane Hijacked

MIAMI (AP) — What started as just another routine Bahamian flight for a World War II vintage seaplane of Chalk's International Airline ended Tuesday in a flurry of gunfire that left two employees wounded and the plane hijacked to Cuba.

Two Afro-coiffed black men in brown overcoats and dark glasses commandeered the Grumman Goose early Tuesday armed with shotguns and revolvers, authorities said. Pilot James Cothron, 49, was shot by the hijackers when he refused to start the engines, and mechanic Douglas Mackenzie, 48, was cut down when he attempted to stop the hijacking with a small-caliber pistol, police said.

Both men, from Miami, were reported in fair condition in a hospital Tuesday night. The plane, meanwhile, with a copilot and five passengers aboard, remained overnight in Havana. The U.S. State Department could not obtain permission for a second plane to fly to Cuba Tuesday.

Miami police sent a telegram to Cuban Premier Fidel Castro seeking the return of the two blacks. The telegram said the men were wanted for attempted murder, hijacking and suspicion of "other larcenous crimes against property and persons."

A taxicab driver told police he picked up two "sharp and clean-looking" men about 30 years old in downtown Miami and took them to Chalk's airstrip on Watson Island just off the MacArthur Causeway linking Miami and Miami Beach. Buzz Allsup, another pilot scheduled to make the flight to Bimini Tuesday morning, was aboard the seaplane making preparations for take-off when the hijackers approached.

"I turned to count the passengers, and I saw a man with a pistol," said Allsup. "He said to keep cool."

He said a second man forced copilot Bob Wallis to board the plane, then pulled a double-barreled shotgun.

Harry Davis, 38, a passenger who was returning to his charter fishing boat in Bimini, said one of the hijackers approached pilot Cothron and announced, "You start this plane up and you take us where we want to go, or I'll shoot."

The term of a patent is 17 years from its date of grant, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Senators Reject Idea to Limit the Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has rejected, but finally rejected, the idea of limiting congressional control of appropriations to the $246.3-billion ceiling in President Nixon's new budget.

After a series of votes, the Senate approved the limitation, which was proposed by Sen. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del. But shortly after the 53-30 approval, it reversed itself and adopted a pair of changes which Roth said "makes a mockery or my amendment."

Opponents of Roth's bill argued Congress over the past three years has cut much of the money requested by Nixon. A ceiling, they said, in effect, forfeits the chief congressional power, the power of the purse.

Besides, said Sen. Russell Long, D-La., a spending curb was passed in 1967 and nearly every program was exempted as it passed over the floor, making that limit a joke.

Long, chairman of the Finance Committee, then steered through two amendments of his own, which gutted the Roth amendment.

The first Long amendment, approved 45 to 38, provided that

Born a Winner or Loser

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Many people feel that everybody is born either a winner or a loser—and that nothing he does in life can change his destiny.

Under this theory, naturally, a fellow would rather be born a winner than a loser.

How can he tell for sure which he is? It isn't too difficult. Take yourself, for example.

You're a born winner if—
Your draft number is twice as high as your bowling average—and you're a pretty good bowler.

No state in the nation will let you buy a lottery ticket, because when the drawing is held you never come home empty-handed.

When it rains pennies from heaven on everybody else, it rains dimes on you.

You don't waste time and energy trying to fool all the people all the time, because you've learned that all you need to do is to fool most of the time the people who can do you some real good.

Your grateful mother on your birthday issues a public statement admitting that the nicest thing that ever happened to her was you.

When your son mails away a box top, the United Nations holds a special session to decide what would be the best thing to send him back.

You have so much money you have to buy two new beds a debt authority, the government would not be able to issue so much as a savings bond.

The House has approved the same $20-billion hike, citing an uncertain economic outlook as its reason for denying the full $50-billion increase requested by the administration.

Treasury Secretary John Connally accepted the lesser figure, but said he and other administration experts would be back this summer for another hike.

Congress has raised the federal debt ceiling 38 times since World War I when the debt stood at $4 billion.

16 Years and Still Fighting

By HARRY DUNPHY
Associated Press Writer
CAIRO (AP) — The civil war in the South Sudan never got the headlines given to the wars in the Congo and Biafra, but it was just as bloody. Now, after 16 years, the fighting should be ending.

President Jaafar el Numairi's government and the South Sudanese Liberation Movement will sign a cease-fire and peace agreement Sunday in Addis Ababa, where two weeks of secret negotiations ended Feb. 26.

At least half a million persons died from wounds, disease or starvation in the war, according to U.N. figures. Hundreds of thousands more were driven from their homes.

Recommendations Made for School Study Group

This report was given by Herman Wilson, Chairman of the Curriculum Sub-committee to the Citizens Committee For Better Quality Schools Thursday night in Hope City Hall. These recommendations will be submitted to Hope School Board:

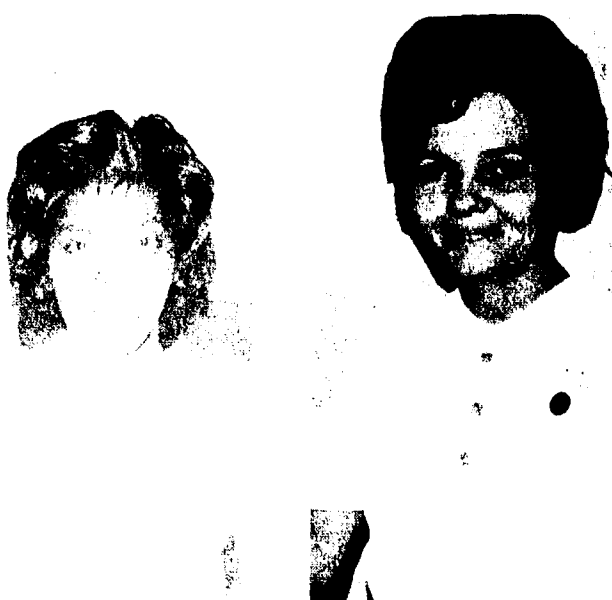

"We would like to commend Earl Downs in his follow up and study to determine the adequacy of the High School curriculum. He has contacted former Hope students in an effort to determine any weakness in the curriculum, through this study, courses have been added to better meet the needs of students in some areas."

"Our study has revealed the following problems or weaknesses concerning the curriculum. We have also noted some problems concerning the school in general and we offer suggestions or recommendations for their correction."

"These first 9 recommendations pertain to the curriculum. We recognize the need for and recommend:"

1. The hiring of nine additional elementary teachers and construction of class rooms for these teachers.
2. A counselor for Jr. High and elementary schools.
3. The expansion of the vocational courses and facilities for these courses.
4. That the reading and math programs be improved throughout the elementary schools.
5. That a librarian be hired for the elementary schools.

Qualify as LPNs

MRS. LORENE HAMILTON

Mrs. Lorene Hamilton and Bertha Carrigan, employees of Hempstead Memorial Hospital, have successfully completed the hours required, and have passed the State Board examination to become qualified Licensed Practical Nurses.

The practical nurse program had its start in World War II. Many registered nurses of that time had joined the various services of our country, leaving few at home to care for the sick. Because of this situation, a program was begun in order to fill this area of need. Over the years, the education of the practical nurse has been improved and standardized. At present, one year of study is required in this area. Part of this time is spent at Red River Vocational Technical School and part in the clinical area of the hospitals. At the end of the year of training, the practical nurse is qualified to assume her role in nursing.

BERTHA CARRIGAN

To become a practical nurse, a person must have a high school education or its equivalent, and be between the ages of 17 and 50. To date, Hempstead Memorial Hospital has offered clinical experience to twenty nine students. Fourteen of these are presently employed by this hospital. Practical nursing offers the ideal solution for those who wish to be nurses, but can not leave home for extended periods of time to do so.

Closed Circuit TV for Super Wedding

By FENTON WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
MADRID (AP) — The closed-circuit television was ready and the aspic was jelling today for the wedding of the year, uniting the favorite grandchild of Spain's durable dictator and the senior grandson of the country's last king.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco will share the spotlight tonight as he leads his granddaughter Maria del Carmen Martinez-Bordiu down the aisle of the chapel at his El Pardo Palace to marry Prince Alfonso de Borbon y Dampierre.

The 21-year-old bride is the oldest of the seven children of Franco's only child, Carmen, and the Marquis of Villaverde, Spain's leading heart surgeon. The bridegroom is 35.

Between 2,500 and 3,000 guests were expected to elbow into the 16th century palace outside Madrid, tying up traffic for miles around. There was room in the chapel for only 500, so closed-circuit television was set up for the rest to watch in two roofed-over patios.

Most eyes will turn often to two other members of the royal family in the chapel, the bridegroom's father, Don Jaime, the Duke of Segovia, and his first cousin, Prince Juan Carlos, chosen by Franco to be Spain's first king since Alfonso XIII abdicated in 1931.

Don Jaime was King Al-fonso's oldest son, but because he was a deaf mute, he renounced his right of succession in favor of his younger brother, Don Juan, father of Juan Carlos. Had he not done so, Franco might have designated Prince Alfonso to succeed him as chief of state, and the old commoner's granddaughter might be in line for a queen's crown.

Don Jaime is making his first visit to Spain since the abdication 41 years ago.

Following the 45-minute ceremony, the wedding party was to greet all the guests at a cocktail party in the patios. Then dinner for 140 was scheduled, with the menu including oxtail soup, jellied lobster, saddle of veal, artichoke hearts, mocha parfait, wines and champagnes.

The guest list started with 2,000 but grew and grew. It included Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco; the Dowager Begum Aga Khan; Imelda Marcos, wife of the Philippine president; Christina Ford, wife of Henry Ford II; Princess Christina of Sweden and her uncle, Prince Bertil; bullfighters Manuel Benitez "El Cordobes", Sebastian Palomo Linares, Antonio Ordonez and Luis Miguel Dominguez; and the former Argentine dictator, Juan D. Peron, an exile in Spain for more than a decade.

MRS. PAUL KLIPSCH AND MIKE MCCORKLE

At a special assembly at Yerger Junior High School Friday, March 3, Mrs. Paul W. Klipsch, Regent of John Cain Chapter DAR pinned the Good Citizenship Medal on Mike McCorkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCorkle, Rt. 4 Hope. Mike is an eighth grader and editor of the Yerger Yak, the school paper.

Mrs. Charles Batson introduced Mrs. Klipsch who stated that the award is based on Honor, Service, Courage, Leadership and Patriotism. Mike was selected by the Faculty of Junior High School.

Crackdown on Drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a continuing effort to squeeze the profits out of the narcotics trade, the Treasury Department plans to increase almost 50 per cent the number of drug traffickers singled out for federal tax investigations.

Asst. Treasury Secretary Eugene T. Rossides said his goal is to have 600 or more drug traffickers under tax investigation by the end of June, compared with 413 at present.

"I'm trying to get this across to organized crime," Rossides said in an interview. "They'd better believe we mean business. They'd better get into another business."

He said the tax program, in which a team of almost 300 Treasury agents has been turned loose exclusively to probe traffickers, is proving "one of the best ways to get after them."

The program, launched last year as part of President Nixon's antinarcotics drive, has resulted in the seizure of about $3.6 million in cash and property and tax assessments of about $15.3 million against the targets on the list.

Not all the money is expected to be collected. But a lot of it already has been seized in raids in which traffickers were arrested and left cash behind.

Rossides said there has been one tax conviction since the program began, with nine cases pending indictment and six others awaiting trial.

The Treasury depends on state and local police to supply the names of traffickers as candidates for tax investigations.

Once a trafficker has been selected, Rossides said, he knows immediately he is being investigated. Agents go in immediately and start looking over his books.

"It disrupts his operation," Rossides said. "He's got a tax investigation on his back now. He's in trouble. It shuts off his profits."

The Treasury will concentrate its tax probes in the major cities, Rossides said. And another 100 agents will be hired by the end of April, to increase the pressure.

Air Conditioning Enemy to Patient

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Cold hospital recovery rooms air conditioned for the benefit of medical personnel are among the worst enemies of a recovering patient, a surgeon says.

Dr. John A. Moncrief of Charleston, S.C., noted that the time immediately following surgery is critical because a patient needs all of his available energy reserves to aid in recovery.

A patient fresh from surgery generally finds himself "thrown into a cool room" and his body at once begins burning up energy just to keep warm, Moncrief said in an interview Tuesday.

"The body temperature is dissipated very rapidly," he added.

"If his heart isn't able to pump well enough to distribute this energy, the patient can have cardiac problems very easily," the surgeon said.

Moncrief, professor of surgery at the Medical University of South Carolina, said chilly hospital rooms also create problems for burn patients.

The former commander of the burn center here at Brooke Army Medical Center, Moncrief said the healing process in burn patients requires tremendous amounts of energy.

In other types of patients, the increase in energy demand may rise 50 per cent above normal for three or four days after surgery; in severe injuries such as a gunshot wound to the stomach, it may increase by 100 per cent, he said.

But in the case of a seriously burned patient, he added, this demand for energy may jump 200 per cent for six to eight weeks.

"If you put a burn patient in a cold environment, he will lose heat by radiation—he'll try to heat the room with his body just like a radiator heats a house," Moncrief said.

If the burn patient's environment is warm, he said, his body can use its energy "for the more important functions of healing wounds and combating infection."

Moncrief said this doesn't mean the entire hospital room has to be warm. The patient needs only a "micro-environment" around him, such as heat lamps that the Army burn center has used since 1964, he said.

The ideal temperature, he said, would be just below the "sweating point," or about 93 degrees Fahrenheit.

country club dues to Medicare. He said the disagreement was over definitions. He says Blue Cross and Blue Shield recognizes that country club dues and entertainment expenses are not reimbursable.

The auditors also questioned an additional $194,683 in administrative expenses paid to Blue Cross and Blue Shield in 1967 on the ground that the costs were not documented.

Wilson Plans Three Talks

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Harold Wilson, the former British prime minister, will deliver three speeches in April at Lehigh University.

Wilson will speak April 19, 20 and 21 under the university's Blaustein lecture series.

Wilson also will appear at a special student convocation at

What Ever Happened To Country Doctors?

A rural New York area's long search for its own physician has a happy ending—temporarily, at least.

"Americans who live in remote rural areas often have special difficulty obtaining adequate medical care. On the average there is now one doctor for every 630 persons in America. But in over one-third of the counties the patient ratio is less than one-third that high. In over 130 counties there are no private physicians at all."

— President Nixon, Feb. 18, 1971

By TOM TIEDE

CATO, N.Y. — (NEA) — For the past five years this tucked-away town has been an appalling example of the ailing state of health care in rural America.

The community's only doctor moved away in 1967 (he said he was overworked), leaving residents here, and in four nearby settlements, to have their babies, check their fevers and take care of their physical emergencies however they might.

It wasn't easy. A new minister moved here last year and called 17 out-of-area physicians before he found one who would accept him as a patient. An elderly man with prostate trouble had to be rescued with an ambulance while waiting the routine 10 days before a doctor in another town could help him. And in at least one case, that of an asphyxiated infant, a human life was lost

Even if you were dying, they wouldn't come.

To be sure, the doctorless people despaired. But, as it happened, they did more than moan. Residents of five affected towns—Cato, Ira, Conquest, Victory and Sterling—grouped together to form the Northern Cayuga Health Services Association. Their common goal: "To get a doctor, by kidnapping if necessary."

For awhile, several years, it looked as if a doctor might have to be kidnapped. Northern Cayuga County, N.Y., is hardly an attraction for available physicians. It's out of the way (between Lake Ontario and the New York Thruway), it's country ("We're old-fashioned here"), and there is two feet of snow every winter. The citizens' health services association advertised in "every medical journal we could find," but in vain. There was only one reply in five years—from a Hindu physician in Nova Scotia who did not meet New York medical qualifications.

Still, the citizens in crisis did not give up. They could not. As TV repairman Webster (he's now the administrator of the area's medical association) explains: "We had 8,800 people in our five towns without a doctor. And when you considered all of the surrounding area, there were 13,000 more in the same fix. It was absolutely miserable. I remember once I needed a poison ivy shot. I tional Emergency Health Personnel Act—a new program to provide temporary health workers, including doctors, to areas in critical need. "My gosh," says Webster, "it was a godsend." His group drew up several papers documenting their plight. Sample: "In many ways, animals are receiving better medical care than people in our area." Shortly thereafter, the federal government listed Cato as one of 13 rural and big-city areas which this year will receive government physicians and new health care hope.

Citizens here are, to say the least, elated. They have taken space from the local elementary school for a temporary clinic. They have scheduled everything from bank loans to bake sales to raise $150,000 first-year expenses. They have ordered a complement of gear, including an electrocardiograph unit and an old X-ray machine. And they have welcomed, almost overwhelmed, the first of two doctors to arrive.

Clinic operations begin in mid-March. Says Webster: "It's a dream come true."

Despite the relief and joy, the area's medical problems are probably not over. The federal doctor on hand, Daniel Janiga, is too young (28), too hip ("I got into Public Health because it was a way to avoid the draft") and too city (Chicago) to consider Cato anything more than an obligatory stopoff in his career. Thus, unless the government continues to supply the area with physicians (which it won't), the citizens still must lure a private professional here.

And yet—what the hell—never mind the remaining worries. At long last folks in this area have a sawbones. And the business is abuilding. "First thing I'm gonna do," says a happy old-timer, "is tell him about my knee. It throws out. I'm standing there, doing nothing, and it just throws out. Then there's my stomach. Oh, boy, my stomach. I got this pain right here that has..."

Another Big Drug Haul

NICE (AP) — French customs police have made their second big Riviera drug haul in a week, seizing 321 pounds of morphine from under the seats of a car coming from Istanbul. They arrested two Turks, one with a diplomatic passport.

The car was stopped Sunday at the Menton border post, on the Italian frontier, after a blanket order to check all vehicles coming from the Middle East. Police discovered the morphine in 146 packets and said it converted into heroin it would have an American street value of $36.5 million.

The driver of the car was identified as Ibrahim Ikier. The man with the diplomatic passport was not identified. Both are under interrogation.

Last Tuesday, French customs police in Marseille seized 937 pounds of pure heroin in packets embedded in concrete in the hold of a shrimp boat.

Alimony for Ali's Wife

CHICAGO (AP) — An attorney for former heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali has given a court $44,000 to ensure alimony payment to Ali's former wife.

After the presentation Monday, Judge Norman M. Eiger of Circuit Court in Cook County lifted a contempt warrant that he had issued after Ali failed to post the cash guarantee by the March 2 deadline he had set.

Ali divorced Sonji Clay in 1966, saying she refused to follow the modest life style dictated by the Black Muslim faith which Ali embraced. He has since remarried and has three daughters.

Actress Seeks a Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sally Kellerman, the actress who played Army nurse Hot Lips Houlihan in the movie "M-A-S-H," is seeking a divorce from writer Richard Edelman.

Her petition filed Monday cited irreconcilable differences. It said the couple married Dec. 19, 1970, in New York City, separated last Dec. 17, and had no children.

The marriage was the first for Miss Kellerman, 34, and the second for Edelman, 44.

Steve Bogostan, 215-pound defensive end from Messena, N.Y., will captain Army's varsity football team next season.

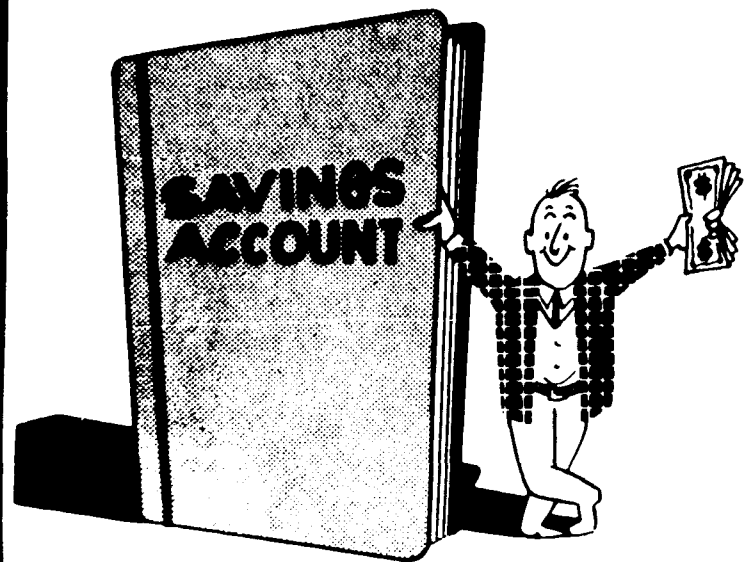

DR. DANIEL JANIGA has come to the rescue of the Northern Cayuga Health Services Association but how long will he stay?

due to the delays in transporting emergency cases 18 miles to the nearest hospital.

"I'll tell you how bad it's been," says TV repairman Cliff Webster. "My dad got very sick one time and couldn't wait for an appointment. So I phoned a dozen doctors and offered them $100 cash to come to town for a house call. They wouldn't do it. None of them."

called up everybody in the book. Nothing. I told them all I wanted was a simple shot, that a nurse could give it to me, but they all just said go some place else." So, adds Webster, "We couldn't stop trying. We just had to get a doctor here somehow."

As it turned out, the pluck and persistence paid. Last year somebody in Cato read a news story about the Na-
